

A modern bathroom with a long, light-colored stone vanity. The vanity has two rectangular basins and is topped with a dark, minimalist faucet. On the counter, there are several bottles of soap and a small vase with dried plants. The walls are covered in large, light-colored stone tiles. A large window on the left side of the vanity provides a view of a tropical landscape with palm trees. A shower area is visible in the background, featuring a glass door and a showerhead.
